In My Opinion

By

Is it possible to like the Republican Party without necessarily having to buy Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin or Columnist Westbrook Pegler of the Hearst Syndicate at the same time?

This is an interesting question, and I know a lot of people who would like to have it answered without double-talk. I recently picked up my copy of the Los Angeles Times, delivered at my doorstep, to learn with some dismay that another columnist, Holmes Alexander, had recently taken it upon himself to read nearly all and sundry from the ranks of the GOP who would not clutch Senator McCarthy to their breasts with a kiss of fire. This included General Eisenhower, the Republican standard bearer.

Which reminded me of the time recently when an ill-famed critic of mine wrote a stirring letter to the editor of this newspaper in which he noted that, since I did not appear to embrace Senator McCarthy with love and affection, I must surely be a fan of Owen Lattimore. Nothing could be sillier than this.

To speak well of General George C. Marshall and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, for example, does not make anyone a friend of Owen Lattimore unless he specifically says so. I, for one, have never done this.

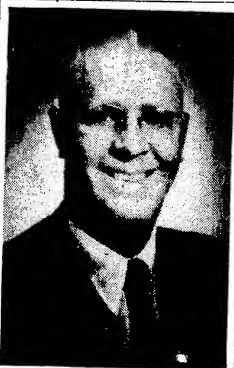

To regard Senator McCarthy as simply a cunning politician who uses the tried and true patterns of many deniaquages who have preceded him, and consequent failure to get steamed up at his endless railing against anybody who may provide him ammunition for a tirade, can hardly be classed as letting the Republican Party down in my book.

My readers know that I have expressed myself many times in the past with profound respect for truly magnificent, GOP leaders of the acknowledged stature of Douglas MacArthur, Herbert Hoover, Robert Taft, Paul Hoffman, and Dwight Eisenhower. Parton me for not wishing to class Senator McCarthy in such noble company. I simply can't see it. Everyone to his own opinion, of course.

What is really stupid, however, is for any person to attempt to offer another such a foolish choice as the critic offered me. "Either, take McCarthy, MacArthur, and Taft," he said, "or

Final 'Fun Day' To Be Tomorrow At Local Plunges

Final 1952 Learn-to-Swim Classes will be held today at all local plunges and this year's concluding "Fun Day" will be observed tomorrow morning, according to C. P. L. Nicholls, Los Angeles supervisor of aquatics.

The season's last public recreational swimming period will be from 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

Included in the municipally sponsored water activities this year have been the seventh annual "Learn-to-Swim" drive, the city-wide instruction program, which has "waterproofed" thousands of boys and girls in the 7-to-17-year-old bracket; free "Fun Days" offered at the city's pools on Saturday mornings; a series of swim meets sanctioned by the Southern Pacific Association of the American Amateur Athletic Union; gala community water carnivals presented by 17 municipal plunges; and public recreational swim sessions for both children and adults, Nicholls reported.

Nicholls reminded bathers and other beachgoers that Los Angeles' municipal strands operate on a year-around basis. They include Cabrillo Beach, San Pedro; Venice-Del Rey Beach; and Will Rogers State Beach.

NORRIS POULSON

Poulson Tells Of European Tour

Congressman Norris Poulson and Mrs. Poulson, along with Congressman Clair Engle and Mrs. Engle, returned this past week from a seven-weeks' tour of Europe. Poulson stated that, while he is not posing as an expert on Europe because of this short trip, he certainly has some definite ideas and impressions about the weaknesses of our foreign aid program.

Poulson said NATO was losing some of the cooperation of the European countries since Eisenhower left, because he alone was able to whip them into line. He likewise said, "I have not changed my original ideas very much and I will report in detail to my constituents in the near future."

Western Trip

Immediately, Poulson stated, he is going to be out in the Western States with two different committees—one to study the unification of the public lands laws for the various Western States; and the other to inspect proposed irrigation and reclamation projects which will come before the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee next January.

There are several of the top members of the Committee who are able to make this trip because they have little campaign opposition in November. Furthermore, this is the best time of the year to get a real picture of all of the factory and problems involved in these separate projects. This will keep him busy, Poulson said, until the middle of October. "Then," he added, "I will probably find myself in the campaign."

New Jersey Picnic

The New Jersey-California Organization invites all former New Jersey folks to attend the next regular meeting on Sunday at West Hollywood Park, 614 N. Robertson Blvd., West Hollywood. C. Newton Miller, president, announces the pot-luck dinner will be at 12:30 p. m. followed by a meeting and program.

Number 60 Is Lucky

Classification "60" is a popular one with NEWS-HERALD readers and classified users—because it satisfies so many needs. For instance, Frank Arnett, 1808 N. Ave. 48, said a 1948 Cushman scooter with one number 60 classified ad. (Got a refund, too, because it took only one ad instead of three to get results.) Check lucky number 60 in today's NEWS-HERALD. You'll see if there isn't something you'd like to sell. If so, call Cl. 6-4146 to place your low cost result-producing classified ad.

What did General Dwight D. Eisenhower mean when he said recently that he would support GOP Senator Joseph R. McCarthy in November "as a member of the Republican organization" if he wins renomination in Wisconsin?

Eisenhower said among other things:

"I am not going to support anything that is un-American and that includes anything that looks like unjust damaging of reputation where a man does not have recourse to the law."

Asked point-blank if he would back McCarthy—who, a reporter said, has in effect called General George C. Marshall a traitor—Mr. Eisenhower replied:

"If you can't take what I said and apply it to the facts as you have them, there isn't much I can do about it."

Eisenhower said that General Marshall is a "perfect example of patriotism," and added:

"I have no patience with anyone who can find in his record of service to this country cause for criticism."

Pressed on whether he would support Senator McCarthy in the event he won the September 9th primary election in Wisconsin, Ike replied:

"It would be impossible for me to support anyone who violates my concept of what is decent, just, right, and fair."

The General went on further to state that he will not "campaign or give blanket endorsement to any man who does anything that I believe to be un-American in its methods or procedures."

However, the GOP presidential candidate repeatedly came back to his theme that all Republican nominees for both Congressional Houses will have his active support in November.

Asked to resolve the seeming paradox of how he would support all Republican nominees in November and still not give endorsement to those he thought had violated his concepts of decency, Eisenhower replied:

"I believe in party responsibility. We must have a single party responsibility."

Story Of The Week

One year ago William B. Cook, 4912 Neola Place, bought a Chevrolet pickup truck through News-Herald classified ads.

Just a few days ago Mr. Cook entered the News-Herald office looking pleased as anything.

"I want to cancel my ad," he said, "don't need it anymore. Just sold my pickup truck."

So that's our nomination for the top story of the week. News-Herald classified ads filled this man's need for a used truck which he drove for one year and then sold with the aid of another classified ad.

What's more, Mr. Cook got a refund for the number of days his ad didn't need to run.

Results like this just can't be beat. News-Herald classified pages tell your message to thousands of North East Los Angeles readers. Call CL 8-4146 today to place your classified ad.

Another exciting birthday. Congress in didy-pants! Sept. 5, 1774 when the first Continental Congress assembled. After 178 years, Congress is going strong. For all faults, we love it still. That's less noisy. Next time you are in Washington, visit Congress. It is very dignified, except when a filibuster is going on.

anchors aweigh! Sept. 23, 1779, John Paul Jones, first admiral of the U. S. Navy, took out his old gun-studded windjammer, and licked the British. England said it wasn't cricket, called Jones a damned pirate, American naval history really began on that September day. Jones started something. The good old U. S. N. is still booming, with flat-tops, radar, jet-fighters, bigger and better shore leaves, and girls in every port.

Sept. 13, 1814. Still fighting the British. Another round in the cousinly feud. Fort McHenry in Baltimore harbor bombarded, and, oh, say can you see Francis Scott more. Now, they get what they want by sending Churchill to Washington. It is touching.

Sept. 17, 1847. American army captured Mexico City, ending the war with Mexico. Americans still invade Mexico every week-end at Tiajuana. The Mexicans win.

Sept. 9, 1849. Admission Day. California became a state. This is a festive day. Public employees take a day off, eat potato chips and hardboiled eggs. Lots of atmosphere. City councilmen continue usual siesta. Music, dancing, and Leo Carillo on a white horse.

Sept. 12, 1918. Americans drive Germans out of St. Mihiel. Yanks were coming over there. They were looking for Kaiser Bill and Mademoiselle from Armentiers.

Glassell Park Attorney Attends Arcanum Meet

Richard V. Kennedy, Glassell Park Attorney, State President of the Royal Arcanum, left on Aug. 28 to attend the Supreme Convention of the Royal Arcanum which is being held in Boston, Mass. this week.

Kennedy will represent the jurisdiction of California, and will introduce legislation to establish a western office of the Royal Arcanum in Los Angeles.

Following the Convention he will tour the East and Mid-West for two weeks visiting Maine, New York, Washington, D.C., St. Louis and Denver, before returning home on Sept. 17.

We're Not Fighting Declares Returned

Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Hudelson, who shook the Pentagon when he declared, on his return from Korea, that Chinese Communists could force UN troops off the embattled peninsula, declared Friday "we are not fighting to win in Korea."

"Nor are we making an all-out effort here at home to win," he added. "However, in my opinion, this is by no means the fault of the American people."

While Hudelson did not amplify his astonishing remarks of last June, he did declare he had not changed his opinions.

He said our forces have suffered enough casualties to man all the division we have in the line.

The 40th's casualties, he said, totaled 82 killed, 298 wounded, and five missing-in-action, a lower rate mission to the plumes, it was pointed out by C.P.L. Nicholls, supervisor of aquatics.

Nicholls reported yesterday that Los Angeles' municipal pools will end their 1952 seasons on Sept. 14, with the year's final free "Fun Day" for boys and girls in the 7-to-17-year-old bracket scheduled Sept. 13.

Although the "Learn-to-Swim" classes at most Los Angeles city pools have been filled to capacity throughout the summer, a few vacancies now exist because many families are enjoying late vacations.

The Highland Park Pool is located at 6150 Piedmont Ave. and the Yosemite Pool at 1840 Yosemite Dr.

Seventh Anniversary Is Celebrated At Roxie's

Lester Stroud, operator of Roxie's Cleaners & Launderers at 6003 N. Figueroa St., proudly announced his firm's seventh anniversary in Highland Park this week.

When Roxie's was first established here, Stroud recalls that he had only two employees. Today, the organization has 12, and ranks as the largest in Highland Park. In fact, he said, it is the only complete laundry and dry cleaning establishment in the community where all of the work is done right on the premises.

Not too long after the establishment of Roxie's here, Stroud was prompted to take over the adjoining space in the building, thanks to a steadily increasing patronage. When he opened the laundry department in 1947, patronage increased more rapidly than ever. Like the dry cleaning department, the laundry utilizes the most modern equipment.

Stroud said that he would like to take this occasion to thank the people of this area for their loyal and continued patronage.

Gale Talley Show Spotlighted At Community Sing

Highland Park Community Sing, held last night at Sycamore Grove, featured the Gale Talley Show, a variety group of vocalists, instrumentalists, tap dancers and baton twirlers. Talley emceed the show.

A highlight of the evening was the evening of Aug. 25 the sing ma and Carol, who came to Highland Park from Omaha, Neb., where they sang on radio, at conventions and at service camps and hospitals. Now appearing on the community sing circuit, the trio made its first appearance at Highland Park.
